INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors of Futurpreneur Canada

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Futurpreneur Canada (the Entity), which comprise:

- the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2020
- the statement of operations for the year then ended
- the statement of changes in net assets for the year then ended
- the statement of cash flows for the year then ended
- and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies

(Hereinafter referred to as the "financial statements").

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Entity as at March 31, 2020, and its results of operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the "Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements" section of our auditors' report.

We are independent of the Entity in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Entity or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Entity's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.

We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Entity's internal control.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Entity to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the group Entity to express an opinion on the financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

FUTURPRENEUR CANADA

Notes to Financial Statements

Year ended March 31, 2020

Futurpreneur Canada (the "Organization") is a non-profit organization, funded through public-private partnerships, designed to provide mentoring, business support and financing to young Canadian entrepreneurs who are creating new businesses. The Organization was registered as a not-for-profit organization under the Income Tax Act (Canada) effective August 10, 1995. After an initial period of research and planning, operations began on April 6, 1996.

The Organization is a registered not-for-profit organization exempt from tax. Accordingly, a provision for income taxes is not recorded in these financial statements.

1. Significant accounting policies:

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations in Part III of the Chartered Professional Accountants of Canada's Handbook. The significant accounting policies are as follows:

(a) Cash and cash equivalents:

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on account and investments in fixed income instruments with maturities of less than 90 days from the date of purchase.

Cash and cash equivalents are carried at fair value. Changes in fair value are recognized in the statement of operations in the current year. Any transaction costs are expensed as incurred.

(b) Financial instruments:

Financial instruments are recorded at fair value on initial recognition. Equity instruments that are quoted in an active market are subsequently measured at fair value. All other financial instruments are subsequently measured at cost or amortized cost, unless management has elected to carry the instruments at fair value. The Organization has elected to carry non-equity investments at fair value.

Transaction costs incurred on the acquisition of financial instruments measured subsequently at fair value are expensed as incurred. All other financial instruments are adjusted by transaction costs incurred on acquisition and financing costs, which are amortized using the straight-line method.

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

Financial assets are assessed for impairment on an annual basis at the end of the fiscal year if there are indicators of impairment. If there is an indicator of impairment, the Organization determines if there is a significant adverse change in the expected amount or timing of future cash flows from the financial asset. If there is a significant adverse change in the expected cash flows, the carrying value of the financial asset is reduced to the highest of the present value of the expected cash flows, the amount that could be realized from selling the financial asset or the amount the Organization expects to realize by exercising its right to any collateral. If events and circumstances reverse in a future period, an impairment loss will be reversed to the extent of the improvement, not exceeding the initial carrying value.

(c) Short-term investments:

Short-term investments comprise treasury bills and debt securities issued by Canadian federal and provincial governments and Canadian banks.

Short-term investments are carried at fair market value as determined at the year end, based on market values for the investments. Changes in fair value are recognized in the statement of operations in the current year.

Short-term investments are accounted for on a settlement date basis.

(d) Revenue recognition:

The Organization follows the deferral method of accounting for restricted contributions that include contributions from corporations and government grants. Government grants and corporate sponsorships are recognized as income on a straight-line basis over the term of the contracts provided that spending restrictions are met during the term of the contract.

Investment income, which includes interest income received and realized and unrealized gains and losses in respect of cash equivalents and short-term investments, is recognized in the statement of operations as earned.

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(e) Loans receivable:

Loans receivable are stated at amortized cost using the effective interest method, net of the allowance for loan losses.

Interest is recorded on the accrual basis for all loans, except on loans classified as impaired. A loan is classified as impaired when, in the opinion of management, there no longer is reasonable assurance of timely collection of the full amount of principal and interest. Impaired loans are written off. Interest received on a loan subsequent to its classification as impaired is not recorded as income. Subsequent collection of amounts on loans previously written off are netted and applied against the loan loss provision.

Any transaction costs are expensed as incurred.

(f) Allowance for loan losses:

Management of the Organization establishes and maintains an allowance for loan losses, which it considers the best possible estimate of probable loan losses in light of current conditions. The allowance for loan losses is deducted from loans receivable to arrive at a net carrying value.

(g) Capital assets:

Purchased capital assets are recorded at cost. Contributed capital assets are recorded at fair value at the date of contribution. Amortization is provided on a straight-line basis over the following periods:

Computers and software	3 years
Office furniture	3 years
Leasehold improvements	Lesser of the term of lease and useful life of the asset

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(h) Deferred contributions:

Deferred contributions are recognized as contributions revenue in the statement of operations on a straight-line basis over the term of the contract provided that contract terms are met during the term of the contract.

(i) Contributions-in-kind:

Amounts are reflected in the financial statements for contributed operating materials and services only when an objective basis is available to measure the value of such services and when the contributed materials or services would have otherwise been purchased.

(j) Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the year. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

2. Cash and cash equivalents:

Included in cash and cash equivalents are investments in fixed income instruments with maturities of less than 90 days on the date of purchase, consisting of money market funds and interest-bearing accounts.

6. Line of credit:

On September 29, 2017, the Organization signed a Letter of Offer (the "agreement") with Business Development Bank of Canada ("BDC") for a $20 million demand revolving credit facility. The Organization signed an amended Letter of Offer on October 2, 2018 amending certain terms and conditions of the credit facility. The credit facility bears interest at BDC's floating base rate minus a variance of 2.74% per annum plus a stand by fee of 0.07% per annum of the unused portion of the credit facility. The credit facility is repayable on demand and is secured by a general security agreement constituting a first priority ranking and exclusive charge on all property of the Organization, including rights of the Organization in the loans receivable.

As at March 31, 2020, the Organization drew $6,024,446 (2019 - $4,287,580) on the credit facility. These funds are used for loan capital for young entrepreneurs. Under the terms of the credit facility the Organization is required to maintain certain covenants. The Organization was in compliance with these covenants as at March 31, 2020 and 2019.

At the beginning of the fiscal year the Organization was not in compliance with one of the financial covenants. As a result, the Lender reduced the credit facility to $8 million and provided a forbearance period to December 2019. The Organization is in compliance with all of the financial covenants for the first three months of fiscal 2021.

The Organization classifies its activities into four principal functions: entrepreneurial programs, outreach initiatives, fundraising development and administration. The cost of each function includes direct costs associated with those functions: employment costs, other direct expenses and allocations. Employment costs are allocated if necessary when a role supports more than one function.

The Organization incurs a number of shared indirect costs, common operating and other expenses relating to more than one function that are allocated by the Organization. These costs include the cost of management and administrative personnel, occupancy costs, other operating expenses and amortization not directly or only attributable to a specific function. These expenses are allocated by applying a percentage based on the percentage of all other direct costs attributed to the function.

13. Financial risk management:

The Organization's activities expose it to credit risk and liquidity risk. The Organization's overall risk management program and business practice seek to minimize any potential adverse effect of those risks on the Organization's performance.

(a) Credit risk:

Credit risk arises from the possibility that borrowers may be unable to fulfill their obligations. The Organization mitigates this risk by limiting loan amounts to individual entrepreneurs and by hiring individuals with the required expertise to assess the merits of loan applications from entrepreneurs. The Organization provides a mandatory mentorship program, while undertaking individual due diligence and adjudications for all applications of its individual entrepreneurs, in order to mitigate any other potential financial risks after loans are disbursed.

(b) Liquidity risk:

Liquidity management relies on maintaining sufficient cash and the availability of funding. The Organization manages liquidity risk by continuously monitoring actual and projected cash flows to ensure that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when due.

(c) Interest rate and market risks:

15. Subsequent event:

In March 2020, the World Health Organization declared COVID-19 as a pandemic resulting in nations around the world locking down and implementing social distancing measures. This has resulted in nation-wide business disruption in Canada, and severe economic repercussions for all small businesses, particularly main street start-up enterprises that form a significant portion of the Youth Entrepreneurs who are serviced by the Organization.

On April 17, 2020, Prime Minister Justin Trudeau announced a federal government relief package for various sectors of the Canadian economy that were hardest hit by the government directives to social distancing and this included Youth Entrepreneurs who were struggling to support their businesses.

As a result, the Organization received on May 6, 2020 a one-time $20.1 million grant from the federal government. These funds are used to:

- Offer $5,000 to $10,000 top-up loans to eligible current clients impacted by COVID-19,
- Provide 6-12 months of loan coverage to all existing clients as of March 31, 2020, which will also mitigate the losses from potential non-payment of loan principal by clients facing business disruption, and
- Ensure that the Organization has adequate capital to support new business launches following the pandemic period.

The federal government has announced several other relief programs such as Canada Emergency Wage Subsidy, Canada Emergency Response Benefit, Canada Emergency Business Account, rent relief, etc. These measures along with digital transformation and slowly opening of the lockdown for the businesses will also count into mitigating factors and allow some businesses to survive this period of business disruption.

Impact of COVID-19:

(a) Loans receivable:

The Organization has assessed the impact of COVID-19 on its loan loss provision and has arrived at the conclusion that the impact of COVID-19 on year end loans receivable balance is mitigated by the loan relief provided by the Federal Government of Canada to the Organization and the other relief programs mentioned above. Hence, the Organization has continued to maintain its loan loss provision at the existing rate.
